

Realm Contributions

Enter contribution details quickly and accurately.

Managing the donations and other gifts from your members and visitors is a key requirement to operate your ministry effectively. Realm Contributions makes that possible with automatic posting of online gifts donated through Realm Giving, and rapid cash and check donation entry.

Problem to Solve:	Realm Contributions Solution:
Church financial staff need to enter and manage contributions.	Give your financial staff the ability to quickly record, manage, and track contributions, whether through rapid entry of cash and check donations, automatic posting of online church contributions made through Realm Online Giving, or importing from other systems.
Church members need easy access to their contribution statements.	Realm Contributions takes the hassle out of contribution statements. It can export statements as PDFs to be mailed, or you can save some time and money by emailing statements to anyone who has given you their email address. Also, give contributors the ability to view and print their own statements on their Realm profiles.
Administrators want to control who has access to contribution information.	Giving information is sensitive in nature. Realm gives you administrative control over who can view contribution information and also who can enter or post gift information. It's all up to you and who you want to give contribution responsibilities.
Church staff need to see data that is tracked for their contributions.	You don't always have time to dig deep into the data, so Realm Contributions serves up meaningful, actionable insights through your own personal giving dashboard making it easier to track church contributions.
