Multiply

A complete solution for churches who need multi-campus administration, advanced data analysis, and operational oversight

Growing churches use Realm Multiply to meet their ever-expanding ministry needs. They're better equipped with tools to inform their campus pastors, connect and engage congregants throughout different campuses, and multiply their ministry impact, all in a single solution.

Problem to Solve:	Realm Multiply Solution:
Growing churches need the ability to oversee multiple campuses at one time.	Realm Multiply expands on the benefits of Realm Inform and Realm Connect to include tools for staff to identify and administer multiple campuses in a single solution. Staff can create different campuses in Realm Multiply, define campuses on reporting, and more.
Campus pastors need solutions to help understand the details of their individual campus.	A pastor's job is never complete. That's why they use Realm Multiply to oversee the small groups at their campus or add individuals to their specific campus. They can even add individuals to certain discipleship tracks for their campus, oversee their progress, and so much more.
Congregants need to specify which campus they're associated with throughout their journey with our church.	Your congregation knows which of your campuses they visit most often, but that can be hard for you to decipher without the right tools. When your congregation is added to Realm, they can specify which campus they're a part of, and that permeates throughout all of Realm Multiply, whether that's on their profile, when they give online, and more.
