

Choosing the Right Ministry Partner Means Helping you do Real Ministry Right.

EXPERTISE

ACS Technologies is the original pioneer of Church Management Software (ChMS) that is still family owned and led. It all started in 1978 by Christians with a vision to help the local church they attended with much needed technology solutions. It grew and grew from there. A Christian owned company since its inception, we are firmly dedicated to serving local churches all over the nation by providing the best-in-class software, service solutions, and services that help churches fulfill Christ's mission for the Church – making disciples.

Largest, #1 ranked support department

Nearly 50,000 churches served

SERVICE

We build great software, but we don't stop there. The service first approach of ACS Technologies truly sets us apart. We have teams of hundreds of dedicated support and consulting personnel who specialize in answering your questions quickly and accurately to help achieve your ministry goals. Your staff can reach our team by toll-free phone, live chat, email, and even personalized visits to your church and 24/7 options. And we answer almost all support calls within one minute! You can rest assured we know how to assist your church in using our solutions to support your ministry and carry on the mission of the Church we were commanded to fulfill.

Focused only on church needs

REPUTATION

Integrity. It's real for us and it means consistently doing the right thing for all involved. Most recently, it's meant we haven't sold out our church customers or our employees to the highest bidder, as many other ChMS companies have in private equity/investor driven deals. ACS Technologies is a for-profit company too, but we resist the only-about-profit mentality that appears so widespread. We welcome partnerships and acquisitions, but only when our ministry visions and integrities align. We have earned the trust of pastors and church staff, as well as our employees and others in the industry, through how we've served them for nearly 40 years. That kind of trust is priceless to us and motivates us every single day to work for your ministry goals.

STABILITY

While many other ChMS companies have come and gone, ACS Technologies has a proven track record of continually growing and adapting to meet the needs of churches as they change to 'go and make disciples.' A lot has changed in our nearly 40 year history, but our vision for providing the most current technology to support the ministry of local churches hasn't changed. Family owned since inception, now with 400 employees across 4 US locations and nearly 50,000 clients, we continue to value being steady, secure, safe and reliable while offering the most up-to-date and easy-to-use solutions under one roof – administration, accounting and community – all for your staff and your congregation.

Most invested in R&D

LEADERSHIP

From our family ownership, to our senior executives and frontline support representatives, ACS Technologies believes in the local church. 75% of our team has served in their church. We know firsthand that serving the Church means serving people, and we take seriously our commitment to help the Church - regardless of size, denomination, or region – achieve their God given mandate to make disciples in their community, state, and across the world.
