

Education

Faith is a journey.

Leaders who are equipped with the right tools are always more effective at educating and shepherding their flock. That's why ACS Technologies (ACST) provides ministries with group management, discipleship tracking, sacraments, and more.

Problems to Solve:	ACST Education:
Ministries need tools to connect with their members, groups, and teams and track their members as they grow in faith.	ACST provides ministry and lay leaders with all the tools they need to guide and shepherd their small groups. Ministries are able to define and track journeys of discipleship and guide them along as they grow in their faith. Similarly, ministries are able to manage and print sacraments as well. As they grow with your ministry, access sacrament reports and other metrics. Lastly, connect with group members in real time through mobile apps built specifically for ministry.
Ministries need a place where they can manage the details of their small groups.	Your ministry brings people together for a purpose. ACST has built solutions that allow leaders to manage everything about their small groups. From roster management and communications to building events or meetings for continued fellowship, you'll have the tools you need to engage your members in small group ministry.

How ACST Serves Education:

- Empower your members to become lay leaders in your ministry by providing them with the tools to help lead and strengthen your small groups
- Lay leaders can oversee discipleship tracks and communicate with your members as they grow with your ministry and in their faith
- Manage and print sacraments and report on them at any time
- Provide your lay leaders with mobile apps designed for ministry so they can stay connected to their group members
